

AMENDED ORDER BY THE COUNTY JUDGE OF HARRIS COUNTY (Cancelling statutory foreclosure and other judicial sales)

Whereas, in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, federal, state and local officials issued proclamations and declarations of disaster, and thereby invoked their respective emergency management plans to protect the public; and

Whereas, on January 31, 2020, the Secretary of Health and Human Services declared a public health emergency “in response to COVID-19, a highly contagious virus that spreads through person-to-person contact and continues to ravage communities across the globe”; and

Whereas, on March 11, 2020, Harris County Judge Lina Hidalgo issued a Declaration of Local Disaster for Public Health Emergency to allow Harris County to take measures to reduce the possibility of exposure to COVID-19 and promote the health and safety of Harris County residents in accordance with Section 418.108(a) of the Texas Government Code. The Declaration of Local Disaster has been subsequently extended by the Harris County Commissioners Court and it is currently in effect; and

Whereas, on March 13, 2020, Governor Greg Abbott issued a Declaration of State of Disaster, certifying under Section 418.014 of the Texas Government Code that COVID-19 poses an imminent threat of disaster for all counties in the State of Texas and to thus take additional steps to prepare for, respond to, and mitigate the spread of COVID-19 to protect the health and welfare of Texans. The Governor has extended the Declaration of State of Disaster each month and it is currently in effect; and

Whereas, in March 2020, the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (“CDC”) issued guidance as to individuals, recommending that individuals practice social or physical distancing to prevent the spread of COVID-19 by staying at least six feet from other people, by refraining from gathering in groups, by staying out of crowded places and by avoiding mass gatherings; and

Whereas, on March 15, 2020, the CDC issued guidance as to large events, explaining that larger gatherings (for example, more than 250 people) offer more opportunities for person-to-person contact and therefore pose a greater risk of COVID-19 transmission and community spread; counseling that based upon what is currently known about the virus, spread from person-to-person happens most frequently among close contacts (within six feet); and urging organizers to continually assess whether to postpone, cancel, or significantly reduce (if possible) the number of attendees at larger gatherings; and

Whereas, on March 19, 2020, after determining that COVID-19 represents a public health disaster within the meaning of Chapter 81 of the Texas Health and Safety Code, Texas Department of State Health Services (DSHS) Commissioner John Hellerstedt issued the first Public Health Disaster Declaration released in the State of Texas since 1901. The Public Health Disaster Declaration has been extended; and

Whereas, each month since March of 2020, Dr. Hellerstedt has renewed the public health disaster declaration for the entire State of Texas, determining that COVID-19 “continues to present an immediate threat, poses a high risk of death to a large number of people and creates a substantial risk of public exposure because of the disease’s method of transmission and evidence that there is community spread in Texas”, directing that each person shall act responsibly to prevent and control communicable disease, and specifying actions to be immediately taken to reduce and delay the spread of COVID-19; and

Whereas, Governor Abbott subsequently issued Executive Orders GA-16, GA-18, GA-21, GA-23, GA-26, GA-28, GA-29, GA-30, GA-32, and GA-34, and related Proclamations, aiming to achieve the least restrictive means of combating COVID-19’s continuing threat to public health by continuing certain social-distancing and facial covering restrictions; and

Whereas, on June 11, 2020, Harris County implemented a Harris County COVID-19 Threat Level System that provides color coded levels of risk based on the incidence of COVID-19 and its transmission level in Harris County and provides corresponding recommendations to the public.¹ At the time of implementation of the Harris County COVID-19 Threat Level System, Harris County was at a Level 2, Significant Uncontrolled Community Transmission; and

Whereas, on June 26, 2020, the Harris County Judge elevated Harris County’s COVID-19 threat level to Level 1 (Red – “severe uncontrolled community transmission” presenting a severe threat to public health), given the rapidly accelerating outbreak in COVID-19 cases in Harris County and the resulting strain on local hospitals’ capacity and local public health departments’ testing and contact tracing capacity. Harris County’s COVID-19 threat level has remained at Level 1 through the date of this Order; and

Whereas, on September 18, 2020, the Texas Supreme Court issued its Twenty-Sixth Emergency Order regarding the COVID-19 State of Disaster, which provides, among other things, that courts: must not conduct in-person proceedings contrary to guidance issued by the Office of Court Administration regarding social distancing, maximum group size and other restrictions and precautions; “must not hold a jury proceeding, including jury selection or a jury trial, prior to December 1, except as authorized by this Order”; and “must take any other reasonable action to avoid exposing court proceedings to the threat of COVID-19”; and

Whereas, GA-34 limited a local government’s ability to enact certain restrictions related the COVID-19 response; however GA-34 still provides that local officials may enact restrictions to the extent that any such restriction is not in conflict with GA-34; and

Whereas, on January 14, 2021, the Texas Supreme Court issued its Thirty-Third Emergency Order regarding the COVID-19 State of Disaster, renewing its Twenty-Ninth Emergency Order as amended until April 1, 2021; and

Whereas, the transmission of COVID-19 has not dissipated but remains a significant threat to the health and safety of the Harris County community and rates of infection are increasing at an

Whereas, from April 16, 2021 through April 29, 2021, 14.2% of ICU beds on average were used for COVID-19 patients in Harris County²; and

Whereas, from April 16, 2021 through April 29, 2021, Harris County averaged 463 new cases with an overall average decreasing trend of 7 new cases each day. The daily average positivity rate from April 12, 2021 through April 25, 2021 was 9.1%³; and

Whereas, the County Judge has determined that extraordinary emergency measures must be taken to try and mitigate the effects of this public health emergency and to facilitate a response to the public health threat; and

Whereas, the Texas Disaster Act is codified at Section 418.001, et seq. of the Texas Government Code; and

Whereas, upon Declaration of a Local Disaster, a County Judge is authorized to control ingress to and egress from a disaster area and control the movement of persons and the occupancy of premises in accordance with Section 418.108(g) of the Texas Government Code; and

Whereas, a County Judge acts as the emergency management director for the county and serves as the Governor's designated agent in the administration and supervision of duties during a state of emergency declared by the Governor in accordance with Section 418.1015(a) and (b) of the Texas Government Code; and

Whereas, a County Judge, serving as the Governor's designated agent in the administration and supervision of duties during a state of emergency declared by the Governor, is authorized to suspend the provisions of any regulatory statute prescribing the procedures for conduct of state business or the orders or rules of a state agency if strict compliance with the provisions, orders, or rules would in any way prevent, hinder, or delay necessary action in coping with the disaster in accordance with Section 418.016 of the Texas Government Code; and

Whereas, a County Judge, serving as the Governor's designated agent in the administration and supervision of duties during a state of emergency declared by the Governor, is authorized to control ingress to and egress from a disaster area and control the movement of persons and the occupancy of premises on an appropriate local scale in accordance with Sections 418.1015 and 418.018 of the Texas Government Code; and
