Description

On July 6, 2024, acting Lt. Governor Dan Patrick issued a disaster declaration in response to Hurricane Beryl, which made landfall in the early morning hours of July 8, 2024. Harris County has closed buildings to both the public and staff as a result of the storm and key personnel do not have access, electronically or physically, to documents that would allow this governmental body to comply with deadlines set forth by the Texas Public Information Act
